- DISTRICT COUNSEL REPORT District Counsel briefed the Board on a U.S. Supreme Court decision in Olivier v. City of Brandon, Mississippi. The Plaintiff is a preacher who was cited and charged by the City for violating an Ordinance which prohibited exercise of 1st amendment rights outside of a designated area. He was convicted and paid the applicable fines and penalties. He then filed this action to challenge the validity of the Ordinance and enjoin the City from future enforcements. The Court found the suit to be valid and not subject to dismissal. Court reasoned that Olivier was not trying to overturn the prior charges but prevent future enforcement of the Ordinance. As such the suit was not barred by the Heck v Humphrey line of case which prohibit legal challenge in civil court directed to overturn prior criminal convictions.
